Not illustrated. 1882 Excerpt: ...They are the Kings, and are planted here for his own delights, and also for the solace of pilgrims. So the gardener had them into the vineyards, and bid them refresh themselves with the dainties, Dsut. xxiii. 24; he also showed them there the ICings walks?jid the arbours, where he delighted to be: and here they tarried and slept. Now I beheld in my dream, that they talked more in their sleep at this time than ever they did in all their journey; and, bJng in a muse thereabout, the gardener said even to mo, Wherefore r?.useth thou at the matter? It is the nature of the fruit of the grapes of these vineyards -to go down so sweetly as to cause the lips of them that are asleep to speak, Cant. vii. 9. So I saw that when they awoke they addressed themselves to go up to the City. But, as I said, tho reflection of the sun upon the City (for the City was pure gold, Rev. xxi. 18) was so extremely glorious, that they could not as yet with open face behold it, but through an instrument made for that purpose, 2 Cor. iii. 18. So I saw, that as they went on, there met them two men in raiment that shone like gold, also their faces shone as the light. These men asked the pilgrims whence they came; and they told them. They also asked them where they had lodged, what difficulties and dangers, what comforts and pleasures, they had met in the way; and they told them. Then said the men that met them, You have but two difficulties more to meet with, and then you are in the City. Christian, then, and his companion asked the men to go along with them; so they told them that they would; but said they, you must obtain it by your own faith. So I saw in my dream that they went on together till they came in sight of the gate. Now I
