About The Tragedy of Puddnhead Wilson by Mark Twain The book takes place in the fictional Missouri frontier town of Dawsons Landing on the banks of the Mississippi River in the first half of the 19th century. David Wilson, a young lawyer, moves to town and a clever remark of his is misunderstood, which causes locals to brand him a puddnhead a nitwit. His hobby of collecting fingerprints does not raise his standing in the townsfolks eyes, who see him as an eccentric and do not frequent his law practice.
