

New Guide to Niagara: With Descriptions of Its Scenery, Casualties, Narrow Escapes, Etc (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from New Guide to Niagara: With Descriptions of Its Scenery, Casualties, Narrow Escapes, Etc Nature has many waterfalls and cataracts, but only one Niagara - and that the most grand and stupendous natural curiosity in the world! - annually visited by hundreds of thousands from all parts of the earth. The Cataract is formed by the precipitous descent of the Niagara River down a ledge of rocks of more than one hundred and sixty feet of perpendicular height, into an abyss or basin below of unknown depth. The Niagara River is the outlet by which the vast surplus of the waters of those inland seas, Erie, Huron, Michigan, Superior, and St. Clair, is passed into Lake Ontario, from whence, by the River and Gulf of St. Lawrence, it finds its way to the ocean. The Cataract of Niagara is situated in latitude 43 6 north, and longitude 2 6 west, from Washington. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
